Complete Nursery Day Care and
Early Years Learning

Dear Parents,

The time of year has come when our caterpillars have arrived. We have a pot of five for downstairs and a pot for upstairs. At first, there's not that much to see as they are so so tiny, but over the weeks when they start to grow the children are fascinated. We all held up our little finger, wiggled it and then I explained that the caterpillars will grow to the same size before turning into chrysalides. The groups will all talk about the life-cycle of butterflies. Be sure to ask your little ones what they've learned, I'm sure you'll be impressed! If you ever want to see them too, just ask! We can put them in the hallway. Mandi

Who's who here at Nursery:-

Isabella - Modern Apprentice

Isabella joined the team this month working towards her Level 3 in childcare studies. She completed her Level 2 at college, gained some experience in another setting then came on board our team. Bella, as she likes to be called has always wanted to work in childcare. She's imaginative and creates her own activities depending on what the children are playing with. She loves to sit and colour with the children and becomes excited when our dance teacher visits as she enjoys music and joining in with the dance class!

PARENT PROFILE PICTURES:-

We've recently noticed that some of our parents have been uploading profile pictures of themselves on the Family app, which we think is a great idea. It's a good way for us to familiarise ourselves with all of our parents. If you would like to upload a picture, we would really appreciate it. Simply click on the head silhouette image alongside your contact details and click 'change' to the photo of your choice.

STUDENT PLACEMENTS:-

You may notice that we have several students around the Nursery. We pride ourselves here, supporting the next generation of Early Years practitioners; how else do you learn other than being hands on. We also have a student here, Laura, who is working towards her EYTS (Early Years Teacher Status). Laura has so far worked in the Baby group, currently now in Toddlers and then eventually Pre-school. Laura wants to become a Reception school teacher and we think she'll be amazing!

Brum brum - we have some fantastic news to share with you about our lovely Darcy. Last Friday Darcy passed her driving test and has since been out to buy a car! When she phoned the Nursery after passing her test, we were all screaming with joy for her. We even got the children to join in! Well done Darcy.
